- 3. Chief Executive Officer/Secretary's update

Mr. Minster provided updates on numerous topics.

Personify: Personify will be converting this upcoming weekend with the software going live early next week.

CQ Magazine: There was a discussion about CQ's struggles to provide their magazine timely and an issue with their fulfillment of CQ awards processed through LoTW.

ARRL Handbook 100th Edition: Next year's handbook will be the 100th edition that will include extra material and a sleek look. There is significant work currently taking place to make this edition special.

W1AW: ARRL is working to get the Maxim Memorial Station on the National Registry of Historical Places. Once ARRL is successful and the plaque is purchased, it is our desire to invite Senator Blumenthal for the placement and tie in the 100th edition of the ARRL Handbook.

Foundation Club Grants Program: The committee has been working hard to establish the criteria for the program. There will be two application periods, first in April and another later this summer.

Strategic Plan: Mr. Minster will be partnering with Mr. Kemmerer to establish a strategic plan working group. Mr. Minster will also be reaching out to the consultant working with IARU Region 1 to see if they would be willing to and able to work with ARRL.

In Person Speakers: As discussed during the last A&F meeting, due to budgetary constraints in-person staff participation will be limited to major shows and events while smaller events will be supported via virtual means. The goal is to get clubs to utilize presentations in the learning center. Another objective will be to expand the speaker group with volunteers outside of Headquarters staff such as board members and field organization leaders.

Upcoming Events: Staff is preparing for Dayton Hamvention, SEA-PAC, Friedrichshafen, Huntsville, and the Northeast HamExpo. Also noteworthy is that Josh Johnston and Mike Walters will be presenting two of the three English language EmCom presentations at the IARU Region 2 EmCom Meeting.

Mr. Minster entertained questions.

4. FCC Counsel's Update and FCC Matters

Changes at the FCC: The FCC is in stage 2 of 3 on returning to the office, with a mixture of working in the office and at home. Access to the FCC headquarters building remains restricted and meetings with staff continue to be by virtual means. The Commission meeting on March 16 was the first in-person agenda meeting of the Commissioners in two years, but staff participated virtually. Planning and related negotiations with the union continue for a full opening later this year.

FCC Rulemakings: Despite efforts over the past six months, there is no indication that the Commission is near to resolving any of the pending amateur radio proceedings. We continue to focus on actions to direct the Commission's attention to the now-urgent matters.

FCC Application Fees: The Commission staff has indicated that collection of application fees will begin by the end of April. The staff is going to meet again shortly with all Volunteer Exam Coordinators (VECs) to update them on the details and mechanics of fees collection. It is clear that fees will not be handled by the VECs, but instead, will be paid by applicants directly to the Commission. The staff also has emphasized that the fee is for handling the application, not for issuing a license. Fees for applications that are denied or dismissed will not be refunded. This most likely will occur in the context of vanity call sign applications.

Forest Service Fees: The League filed comments in February opposing fees proposed by the Forest Service to cover their administrative costs. The Service proposed a new flat $1,400.00 fee for all users big and small, commercial and non-commercial. There were over 700 comments filed, and the Service opened up a second period for additional comment that closes on March 30.

CEPT Assembly Suspension: Note was taken that the CEPT Assembly suspended the memberships of the Russian Federation and Belarus as of March 18, by written vote of CEPT members.

The committee was on break from 12:41 PM - 12:52 PM with all returning as noted above except CFO Diane Middleton.

5. Legislative Advocacy Committee status report

Mr. Stratton discussed the current efforts taking place in Washington and then entertained questions.

6. Electronic Balloting Plan

Mr. Zygielbaum, on behalf of the Ethics and Elections Committee, presented a summary of the progress made on selecting an electronic balloting vendor, how the process would work and a timeline for the election cycle. He presented an aggressive schedule to launch electronic balloting for the 2022 election cycle that will include educating the membership through QST articles and other communication methods. He noted that at this time, the electronic balloting process would only be for Director and Vice Director elections. At the moment, this process would be too costly for the smaller Section Manager elections.

Mr. Zygielbaum entertained questions.

On the motion of Mr. Williams, seconded by Mr. Abernethy, it was UNANIMOUSLY VOTED to accept the electronic balloting plan and its implementation in accordance with the plan.
