2010 Simulated Emergency

Test Results

Compiled by Steve Ewald, WV1X

As Amateur Radio operators cognizant of the role that we have for emergency and public service communications, it is our hope that the 2010 ARRL Simulated Emergency Test (SET) enabled you, your community and/or your ARRL Section to prepare for the numerous communications emergencies that have needed (or will need) our assistance in time of need.

After the particularly harsh winter season of 2010-2011 that had snow and ice storms, and the spring season of 2011 that witnessed a severe outbreak of tornadoes, severe storms and flooding through many parts of the country, the reminders are everywhere to be ready and to be prepared.

The following written summaries shown in this article are representative of the many detailed reports that were submitted. These stories — and the statistical reports that follow in this article — help demonstrate your overall commitment to emergency communications as an individual Amateur Radio operator. It also includes all who are active members and leaders of the ARRL Field Organization, ARES®, RACES, SKYWARN, National Traffic System and many other allied groups who have been called to serve. Thank you for your continued efforts!

San Francisco Section Conducts Earthquake Drill

Fred Polkinghorn, KQ6OB EC, Sonoma County, California

On October 23, 2010, the San Francisco Section ARES conducted a joint drill with the Oakmont Emergency Preparedness Committee (OEPC). Oakmont is an active adult community with 5,000 residents located just east of Santa Rosa, California. The OEPC had activated three emergency triage centers. Each center was manned with 10-12 volunteers including doctors, nurses, counselors, transportation personnel and radio communicators.

In addition to the triage centers, Oakmont has 213 COPE (Citizens Organized to Prepare for Emergencies) teams. These neighborhood teams consist of 10-12 homes which are organized to give mutual aid in the event of an emergency. The COPE teams communicate via Zone Communicators to one of the three triage centers via Family Radio Service (FRS) radios.

Each triage center was linked to an emergency operations center (EOC) in Oakmont via a 2-meter simplex net. During the drill, the EOC was linked to an ARES net on the W6SON repeater. This net also included radio operators located at the American Red Cross in Windsor, California, and the Blood Bank of the Red Woods located in Santa Rosa.

Assistant Emergency Coordinator Tom Olley, KG4VUB, operates from a shelter location in the Cherokee County (Georgia) SET.

The drill scenario was an 8.4 earthquake located on the San Andreas Fault. The simulated earthquake had caused extensive damage in the Santa Rosa area. In Oakmont, the earthquake had caused several fires, collapsed homes and a number of injuries.

The drill used a closed net with formal message handling procedures. Messages were sent form the COPE teams to the triage centers via the Zone Communicators. If the problem could not be resolved by the triage center, the message was forwarded via the ham operators to the Oakmont EOC. If the problem could not be resolved within Oakmont, the request for outside assistance was sent via the ARES net.

In all, there were approximately 52 people who took part in the exercise. Of these, 27 were communicators including 17 hams and 10 people operating FRS radios. Total messages passed were 87 including 36 messages passed between the Zone Communicators and the triage centers, 35 messages between the triage centers and Oakmont EOC and 15 messages passed between the Oakmont EOC, net control, the Red Cross and Blood Bank of the Red Woods.

In addition to the participants, we had a number of outside observers. These included four EMTs from the Santa Rosa Fire Department who offered suggestions for the triage centers. We also had a reporter from the Kenwood Press who wrote an article on the exercise. Dave New, AA6YX, was an ARES observer who worked with net control operators in the EOC. Considering this was our first full-scale exercise, it went very well. As with any exercise, there were a number of problems and improvements which were identified. Each participant was asked to complete an evaluation form, and the forms were reviewed and discussed at a critique meeting one week after the event.

Simulated Mid-Air Collision over the River

James Boyd, KCØQCO PIO. SEMARC

By one o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 19, 2010, an estimated 90 volunteers had been involved in locating two aircraft downed on the Mississippi River in a simulated emergency drill in Minnesota (southeast of St Paul). Volunteers representing the SouthEast Amateur Radio Club (SEMARC), Cottage Grove and the Stillwater Amateur Radio Association (SARA) along with other radio amateurs participated in the drill.

Those responsible for overall coordination of the drill included John Regan, KAØHYR, Woodbury, EC of Washington County ARES; Tom Polzin, South St Paul, director of Dakota County Emergency Communications (DCEC), which is a RACES group.

The drill began with an 8 AM briefing at the Inver Grove Heights Twin Cities Marina by Bron Jones of the DCEC and Lieutenant Commander Barry Berg of the US Coast Guard Auxiliary. They detailed the search plan for two small/medium sized planes that had earlier been reported in a simulated mid-air collision over the Mississippi River. The aircraft were believed down between Dakota County's Spring Lake Park Preserve and Washington County's Grey Cloud Island Camp Galilee.

Under gray overcast skies, volunteers moved into assigned locations while search and rescue units began their search patterns. According to Mr Regan, the Amateur Radio operators were dispatched with air, ground and water units to provide "interoperability, which is the ability to communicate on various frequencies with all agencies involved in the drill." Regan noted, "those Amateur Radio operators involved were able to provide communications with all agencies regardless of frequency or location. In addition, procedures that were in place worked well and were strengthened by the drill."

"The September 19 drill did highlight for us the importance of developing relationships with both other amateur groups and public agencies for whom we may have to provide communications in the event of an actual emergency," Regan concluded.

Overload at the Dispatch Center

Howard Fischer, KC9IVJ EC, Juneau County ARES/RACES

Juneau County, Wisconsin, ARES demonstrated their capabilities throughout a scenario that tested the skills of a variety of emergency and public safety services. In a very short period of time, the dispatch center experienced an unusually high number of requests for fire and ambulance services at various locations in the county. At the same time, a couple of desperadoes attempted to rob the bank in Wonewoc.

With all the sirens and scanner activity, the telephones and cell phones were unable to handle the large volume by the general public calling friends, relatives, neighbors and the 9-1-1 center to see what the heck was going on. As with most "grapevine talk," events became bigger and more embellished than what was actually going on. This was the "perfect storm" (so to speak). Public service radio frequencies could not handle the exceptionally high traffic and Amateur Radio was called in for communications support.

At 9 AM, Larry Dudzinski, K9LRD, was notified to activate the 2010 SET from his residence. He immediately started up a resource net, took check-ins and directed Nancy Noga, KC9KCC, and John Noga, KC9ILO, to set up the communications trailer at Lions Park in the City of Mauston. Once the trailer was up and operational, net control was transferred to Nancy, KC9KCC, in the trailer. Bruce Lange, KC9LLI, became Incident Commander for the duration of the event and ran the exercise from the communications trailer, which also served as the command post.

Representatives of several local agencies and governments visited our command post during the exercise. The City of Mauston, Juneau County Sheriff Department, Mauston Ambulance, New Lisbon Police Department were among those visiting. Howard Fisher, KC9IVJ, and Larry, K9LRD, started to contact the law enforcement, fire, municipalities and emergency medical services to determine their needs.

Although we did not pre-plan what exactly the exercise would be, it became apparent these agencies were most concerned with communications and getting the necessary resources to where they were most needed. This year, we involved several agencies in the SET (including a few that we have never worked with before). It was pleasantly surprising how well it was received by these agencies and the positive remarks that followed. That, in itself, made the SET a big success.

2011 SET on the Schedule

October 1 and 2, 2011, is a main weekend to focus on for this year's SET although many sections and local Emergency Coordinators have the option of conducting their exercises on a different date that works better. Please contact your local ARRL Field Organization leaders to find out specific dates, times and potential plans for the Simulated Emergency Test in your area. Thank you!
